

phpdfstk High-Level Builder

This sample document was generated by the new Pdf class, the friendly facade on top of PdfWriter. It requires no knowledge of content streams, resource names, font references, or any other PDF object-model machinery.

Text flows naturally

Body paragraphs wrap at the content column and flow down the page. When the cursor runs out of room, a new page starts automatically and the next line of text continues there.

Alignment

This line is centered.

This line is right-aligned.

Output modes

`save(string $path)` writes to a file on disk.

`toBytes()` returns the PDF as a string.

`writeTo($stream)` pipes the PDF to any fwrite-compatible resource.
